I first came across 'Skidleneys Distribution' trading techniques during a seminar conducted by Ray Barrs on Monday 29th March 1993. As a professional private trader better results are of paramount importance, and since doing Ray Barrs's course I have encountered only one losing week out of thirteen, a very satisfactory strike rate!!

The most striking advantage of the technique has been in identifying where the market is, enabling us as a trader to enter the market on very volatile days at low risk entry points. Secondly, standard set up distributions eg 313 outside, have yielded some very pleasing results. Thirdly, and most strikingly, following the distribution techniques has stopped me "jumping on the market, out of desperation, with the flow" at very dangerous points thus reversing had earned profits.

I would strongly recommend any trader to have at least a working understanding of Skidleneys Distribution while trading the markets, and by purely following its triggers we can have a successful experience in trading. (This recommendation is based on 13 weeks of trading the Australian Bond + stockmarkets)

Good Trading,
